

Winter News 2010 - 2012

'The Cry of Tin' film

Erica's recent work has been the subject of a short film by two film-makers whose work is currently being shown at the V&A's 'Power of Making' exhibition. The film, entitled the 'Cry of Tin', shows Erica creating her Surf pendant which is latest design in her Kerensa Cornish tin collection. To see the film and hear the extraordinary sound of the tin's cry in the background click here or visit www.kerensajewellery.com

Demonstration Day

20th November 2011

Somerset Crafts, Avalon Marshes Centre,
Shapwick Road, Westhay, BA6 9TT

Erica will be setting up her workshop and showing visitors how her swan bangles are made. Between 10am and 1.30pm.

Other artists and craftsmen will be demonstrating throughout the day until 5pm.

Fairtrade and Fairmined Gold

Erica is delighted to have been granted a licence from the Fairtrade Foundation to create work in certified Fairtrade gold. The Fairtrade and Fairmined gold dual label was introduced in February 2011. Erica is one of only 40 other jewellers in the UK to hold this licence, she sees this opportunity as an important step towards positive progress in ethical jewellery. 'I will be able to offer this option - my work is inspired by a deep connection to our environment and people, so to be able to create pieces from gold that has been mined in fair, safe conditions and which has been extracted responsibly from its surrounding environment is very special.' Erica has been using eco gold and silver in her creations ever since it has become available, but this new licence marks a pioneering step forward.

For further information on Fair Trade and Fairmined Gold click here <http://www.fairtrade.org.uk/gold/>

Facebook and Twitter

The latest news, thoughts and inspiration can be caught on Erica's Facebook and Twitter pages - join up to keep in touch!

follow us on twitter

Wedmore by Lamplight

Wednesday 7th December

5.30pm - 9pm

Visitors are welcome for a glass of mulled wine and late night shopping during the Wedmore by Lamplight event. Lots of new stock for special gifts, including bangles, cufflinks, necklaces, and the latest in Erica's Kerensa collection!

